

DR 2019 Mission Trip

Christ Episcopal Church, Valdosta GA

Photographs and Reports

Julius Ariail is planning to post photographs and a brief daily report online during our trip on his personal Facebook page, here:

<https://www.facebook.com/julius.ariail>

These daily reports will usually be posted in the evening around 9 p.m. If there are Internet connection issues in the evening, the posting might be delayed until the next morning.

The photographs will be in this Facebook album:

The number and quality of the photographs posted, plus the length of the reports, will depend on the strength of the Internet connection while in El Pedregal. After the team returns to the US, a much larger set of photographs will be posted in a separate Google Photos album linked to Christ Church's website and indexed on this page:

Photographs taken by other missionaries during the trip are welcome to be added to this final album compilation. The best way to transfer those photographs to Julius while the team is together in the DR is via Airdrop (if using an iPhone). The best way to transfer them while back in the US is via email attachments. Photos posted on individual missionaries' Facebook pages can be copied and added to the final album, but are more difficult to arrange in chronological order in the final album if they pass through Facebook first.
